TRADE BETWEEN RUSSIA AND CHINA - THE WAY TO SUCCESS

In the 21st century, trade relations between Russia and China are steadily growing from year to year. Over the past two years, the dynamics of the development of trade and economic relations between Russia and China has shown high growth and excellent prospects for a further intensive increase in the volume of trade operations.

China is Russia's No. 1 trading partner.

Resources and raw materials are supplied from the Russian Federation to China, and electronics and industrial goods are supplied from China to Russia.

The main directions of trade and economic relations between Russia and China:

- energy;
 - Agriculture;
 - scientific and technical cooperation;
 - cooperation in the field of transport;
 - cooperation of private business -
- the most important direction for the economy of both countries.

Russia supplies to China:

- oil, oil products, coal;
- ore (iron, copper, precious metals, lead);
- copper, ferrous metals, aluminum;
- processed and unprocessed timber.

From China to Russia is delivered:

- smartphones;
- computers/laptops;
- household appliances and electronics;
- cars;
- fasteners and other ferrous metal products;
- black metals.

We consider cooperation between Russia and China in several positions:

- replacement by China of part of the "lost" sales markets;
- replacement of "falling out" Western suppliers with Chinese ones;
- establishing financial cooperation with China

Heading East is a good idea to diversify supplies.

Trade - economic figures for 2022:

- trade turnover between China and Russia at the end of the year reached $190 billion, an increase of 29% compared to 2021. This is the largest increase among main trading partners of China.

Exports from China to Russia increased by 12.8% and reached $76 billion. Import from Russia to China grew by 43.4% and reached 114 billion $.

In 2022, China increased deliveries to Russia of trucks, excavators and loaders, rubber tires, pumps and compressors, taps, gate valves, valves and gates.

At the same time, Russia came out on top in terms of crude oil supplies to China, surpassing Saudi Arabia. In 11 months of 2022, China imported 80 million tons of Russian crude oil with a total value of $54.5 billion.
